

EAST

DISTRICT PROFILE

The East District is the smallest of the ten planning districts. It lies totally inside the Raleigh Beltline and is located east of Downtown. A major road in the district is New Bern Avenue, the through-town extension of U.S. Highway 64. Landmarks in the East District include the Wake Medical Complex and Enloe High School, though the majority of land in the district is devoted to single family housing. It is estimated that the population grew here only by 100 people between 2000 and 2006, making it the slowest growing of the ten planning districts. The population of the East District is expected to increase 29 percent by 2030.
